

University of South Alabama

Language for use in NIH Research Progress Performance Reports beginning October 1, 2014

The University of South Alabama recommends for all pre-doctoral graduate students and requires for all postdoctoral fellows to utilize the Individual Development Plan (IDP) to set academic and career goals. Faculty mentors at the University of South Alabama discuss IDP plans and regular progress assessment with trainees to facilitate career progression.